EDITORIAL.

THE sad news of the death of Bro. Sherwood of Phi Psi,—one of the most widely known and best loved of the younger Brothers in the Fraternity, is by this time known to all but those most widely distant from their Chapter homes. For the fourth time in our history the badge of mourning has been assumed. For the fourth time the Inner Door has opened to admit a Brother to wider work and greater opportunities in another world beyond, through the Rite of an Initiation ineffably more solemn and significant than any earthly experience. For as surely as the Principles upon which Alpha Chi Rho is founded are undying, so surely will the work of her Brothers for Christian Ideals, for Magnanimity, for True Brotherhood, for Integrity, for Morality, for Manliness, not cease with the uncertain tenure of a present life. Walter Beach Sherwood needs no obituary. In life and character he was a true Brother of Alpha Chi Rho; as such he has been called to greater work beyond; in the Garments of a Brother he was laid to rest; and as a Brother in example and helpfulness he is with us still. May he rest in peace.

IN JUNE, 1902, the GARNET AND WHITE was not an official publication. Its less accurate sources of information at that time, and the less rigid scrutiny which its news at that time had to pass, partly explain a very serious error in the issue of that date, which has lain unnoticed until the last month, and for which the present Editor takes the first opportunity to vicariously and officially apologize. The name of Bro. W. Herbert Fulweiler crept in, and was published with the names of some men whom the Fraternity, maintaining that its Landmarks are unchangeable, had at that time to pronounce traitors and to expel. Bro. Fulweiler is a loyal Brother of Alpha Chi Rho, and has never been under discipline at any time or for any cause. We hope this correction will serve to atone for a wrong done quite unintentionally at the time, but no less deplorable.

The editor of the GARNET AND WHITE has on hand a supply of Fraternity banners and pennants. The pennants are 18x36 inches in size, and will be sent post paid for sixty-five cents. The banners are an exact copy of the Official Ensign of the Fraternity, and are especially suitable for wall decoration. They are 24x36 inches in size, and will be sent post paid for $1.50. The editor takes this opportunity to bring this matter before the attention of the alumni generally, as well as those undergraduates who may not have heard of it. Every Brother should have at least a pennant of his Fraternity. These prices are special, and cannot, we believe, be duplicated elsewhere. Send remittances by money order where possible, to H. C. Staunton, Columbia University, New York City.
In Memoriam.

Walter Beach Sherwood, Phi Psi.

Initiated October 31, 1901: Died April 1, 1905.

WALTER BEACH SHERWOOD was born at Trumbull, Conn., on February 28, 1882. He was the eldest son of Mrs. Marietta S. Sherwood. At an early age his home became Hartford, Conn., where he lived with his mother, two sisters and three brothers,—Lester, Clarence, and Wilbur. His father was killed by an accident at Berlin several years ago, leaving the eldest son a weight of responsibility which he manfully undertook. Determining to enter the medical profession, he prepared for college at the Northeast District School of Hartford, where he graduated first in his class, and at the Harvard High School. At the latter he won a number of prizes for excellence in scholarship, filled several offices of trust and honour, and graduated among the first six in a class of one hundred and nineteen. The next year he spent in the school, as assistant in the Chemical and Physical Laboratories, and pursued graduate studies in Physics and Biology, of which he was always very fond.

In the fall of 1901 he entered college, where the Phi Psi hailed him as good Alpha Chi Rho material, and on October 31 of that year he was initiated. His Fraternity life was active and enthusiastic from the start. He held office in Phi Psi, and was of great service to his Chapter, and although the record of these activities can not be written here, yet they formed not the least of his responsibilities and successes. He attended every convention of Alpha Chi held since his initiation, including the Philadelphia Session of 1905, of which he was a delegate; he was assigned a toast at the Trinity initiations of 1902 and 1904, and spoke also at the Convention Banquets of 1903 and 1905; he was found at every gathering of the Order around Hartford, and was a tireless worker no less than a most capable adviser in every undertaking of his Chapter. In the college his work was no less prominent and successful. He began his career at Trinity by winning the Admittitur Prize of Fifty Dollars; in each of his first three years he shared with another man the Holland prize, valued at six hundred dollars, and awarded annually to the best student in each class; in the winter of 1904-5 he was one of three men who took the Alumni prize in English Composition, while in March of this year, only two weeks before his death, he was one of those who competed for the Whitlock Oratorical prize. He was second in standing in his class, and therefore salutatorian in this year's graduating exercises, though as a science student he had been allowed to choose the Honour Oration as his part, instead of the Latin salutatory. He was elected a member of Phi Beta Kappa in his Junior year.

In less serious work, also, Bro. Sherwood was splendidly pre-eminent. He did not attempt to play a leading part on the athletic teams of the college, from sheer lack of time to give the attention to this work which Bro. Sherwood always gave to each of his many undertakings. But his love for out of door life was keen. In college literary work he was also interested, and was one of the associate editors of the 1905 Ivy, the Trinity Annual.
He was first secretary and treasurer, and afterwards president, of the Hartford High School Club. He took great interest in Biology, and was a member of the Trinity Biological Seminar. In all his activities, he was the same quiet, unassuming, but deeply practical man so well remembered in his Fraternity relations. He had a horror of anything which bordered on cant or hypocrisy, and few knew how deeply religious his life was in its more hidden springs. Those who knew him best, loved him the best; it was never said by a friend of Sherwood that familiarity with him bred anything but a deeper and more solid admiration for the man.

He was drowned in the submerged meadows of the Connecticut River, near the East Hartford railroad bridge, while canoeing with his brother Wilbur, on the afternoon of Saturday the second of April. The body was not recovered till Monday, when Bros. Roger Blakeslee and Perry of Phi Psi found it in deep water, not far from where, seized by sudden cramp, Sherwood had gone down. The funeral, at the wish of the family, was an academic one. Brief services were held at the family home on Bellevue Street at 2:30 on Wednesday, April 6. The body, in cap and gown, in a plain grey casket with silver trimmings, was then borne to St. Thomas' Church from the Parish House under escort of the entire senior class, also in cap and gown, and a great number of personal friends. Bros. Rogers, Craig, Heyn, and Henderson, and the entire Chapter were present. Dr. Flavel S. Luther, President of the college, with Profs. McCook and Brenton of the Faculty, assisted the rector, the Rev. Henry Macbeth, in the service, which was the brief and impressive Ritual of the Episcopal Church, of which Bro. Sherwood was a communicant. The choir, organist, and ushers, were all Trinity men. The bearers were Bros. Roger H. Blakeslee, E. T. Winston, W. S. Perry, W. H. Moody, G. Buck, and L. S. Buths, of Phi Psi. Bros. H. I. Skilton and W. W. Ozon were in the quartet which rendered the music of the service. Bro. C. C. Brainerd, the college organist, conducted the music. There were many floral offerings, among these being pieces from the Sunday school and Young People's Club of St. Thomas', of both of which Bro. Sherwood had been a member, a wreath of Blue and Gold from the Senior Class, and a large pillow of Garnet and White from the Chapter.

After the service, the Senior Class, in spite of a pouring rain, marched in cap and gown before the hearse to Spring Grove Cemetery, where the body was placed in a receiving vault. President Luther here read the committal service.

The flag of the college was halfmasted for the three days preceding the funeral, and the general atmosphere of the college was one of great gloom. It was resolved by the members of the Senior Class to wear mourning, in the shape of a black lapel button, for twenty days. In the Fraternity the ceremonies of mourning were observed in the different Chapters. Phi Psi went into mourning for one month, the other Phis for a period of two weeks, while many other tributes of respect were paid to Bro. Sherwood's memory, which, while out of place here, will be found upon the minutes of the several Chapters. Bro. Sherwood was widely known, universally respected, and greatly loved by all who knew him, and had he been spared, would have done much for his college, his community, and his Fraternity. In his death the Order has lost not only a true and loyal Brother, but one whose energy was constant, whose zeal unceasing, and whose ability and talent, always at the service of the Order, were of no mean rank.

The following tribute to Bro. Sherwood appeared in the Trinity Tripod for Tuesday, April 4th:

WALTER BEACH SHERWOOD.

It is seldom that a college community, large or small, is kept in a state of mourning for two weeks, almost without interruption. Yet that is the experience Trinity is passing through. Two weeks ago to-day General Joseph R. Hawley, LL. D., was buried, and last Wednesday Colonel Jacob L. Greene, LL. D., a member of the Board of Trustees, died.

Both of these were prominent citizens of Hartford and were more or less closely connected with Trinity. Saturday afternoon when Colonel Greene was being buried, the college was shocked by the news of the drowning of one of the most prominent men, scholastically, in the Senior Class, Walter Beach Sherwood.

Sherwood was one of the most faithful students, as well as one of thepluckiest, in college. For almost three years, since the death of his father, he had entirely supported himself. During vacations he worked in a Hartford bank, and during the college year he earned money by tutoring. In spite of this extra work he kept up a high standing in his studies, won several valuable prizes, and but two weeks ago it was announced that he would graduate second highest man in his class. He had but recently, by hard work and after several years of uncertainty, made arrangements by which he would be able to continue his studies in Johns Hopkins University next year. His ambition was to become a doctor.

In his death Trinity loses a most loyal and devoted son, one who, had he been permitted to live, would without doubt have done honor to his Alma Mater.
The Resolutions printed below, which were by no means merely formal expressions of grief, also speak for themselves:

It is with deep sorrow that the members of the Biological Seminar of Trinity College learn of the death of their secretary, Walter Beach Sherwood, of the class of 1905.

In attestation of his scholarship Mr. Sherwood had been awarded the Hartford admittituir prizes in English composition for 1905, the second honors and honor oration in the class of 1905, one-half of the Holland prize scholarship for the year 1902, 1903 and 1904, and had attained an honor grade in each of the six courses taken in biology. Last June he was elected to the honorary fraternity of Phi Beta Kappa. Having laid a broad foundation, particularly in the province of this Seminar leading to the study of medicine, he gave much promise of a useful and honorable professional career. Severely handicapped for funds he earned his way through college; with unusual gifts of mind, he worked steadfastly and with tireless application to possess a knowledge of the subject in hand which should be as complete as possible; courteous, strictly attentive to his daily duties, improving all of his opportunities, he was an ideal student; a communicant in the Protestant Episcopal Church, his life was pure and devoted to noble purposes, with an uplifting faith and the highest aspirations. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to the widowed mother and the brothers and sisters in their great bereavement.

A committee, appointed by the class, and consisting of W. Blair Roberts, J. H. George and Harry C. Boyd, drew up the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom to take from us our beloved classmate, Walter Beach Sherwood, and,

WHEREAS, Not only the class of 1905, but also Trinity College has lost, through his death, a devoted son, a careful student, and a thorough Christian gentleman; therefore be it
Resolved, That we, the class of 1905 of Trinity College, extend our most heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved family, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and they be published in the Trinity College publications and in the Hartford daily papers.

A committee composed of Charles H. Pelton, 1905; D. E. Leanderburn, 1906; and Gerald A. Cunningham, 1907, appointed by the college body, presented the following resolutions:

Whereas, Our Almighty Father has been pleased to take to Himself our beloved friend and fellow student, Walter Beach Sherwood, and

Whereas, Though we receive this affliction with feelings of deepest sorrow, we recognize it as coming from the hand of "Him that doeth all things well;" be it, therefore,

Resolved, That we readily bear witness to the Christian and gentlemanly qualities of one highly esteemed by all who knew him; and be it

Resolved, That to his family in their bereavement we extend our deepest sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased, and that they be published in the Trinity Tablet, the Trinity Tripod and the Hartford papers.

No better summary of the deep impression which the worth and ability of our Brother left upon all who had the good fortune to know him can be given than the following lines, penned by one who was Sherwood's teacher in the College,* and published by him in the Hartford paper as a short expression of esteem:

"The light of his life went out beneath dark waters, but that light has left its radiance!

[*Charles Lincoln Edwards, Professor of Natural History.—Ed.]
"Eulogies are written of great men, but sometimes a man who has the elements of greatness is lost before he has the joy of achievement, and then the eulogy must be a prophecy. It is of such a man that I would express something of the hope the future held.

"Walter Beach Sherwood was a student with an insatiable hunger for knowledge and the persistent, patient industry to dig to the very depths to attain that which he sought. He worked in a clean, strong manner to the mastery of his subject. While justly proud of the honors won, he held them as incidental marks along the way. These last four years in Trinity College were not only for the attainment of that culture which goes with the cap and gown, but always the passion ruled him to lay broad foundations for his future profession. He chose the medical department of the Johns Hopkins University as having the high standard of his ideal and looked forward with much happiness to entrance there next fall.

"The teacher teaches many men, but only rarely does one respond with such attentive earnestness, such clear thinking, such ability, such honor as did Walter Sherwood. Then the teacher's heart grows around the student, and he looks forward with joy to the greatness he may have helped to build. And then death ends hope, leaving only the consolation of the memory of a mind eager for intellectual achievement in a man who pulled himself hand over hand toward the star of his ambition, and left a name untarnished."

EDITOR'S NOTE. The GARNET AND WHITE was held up two weeks this issue by reason of the failure of Chapter Editors to get their copy in on time. Editors should make a point of punctuality in order that the paper may appear early in the month. The next copy is due June 18th. Please cut this date out and post as a reminder.

The letters contain still much matter which might be improved. In the judgment of the Editor, the Phi Beta letter is the best this month. It is strongly recommended that the letter be read in open council and criticised by the Brothers of the Chapter before being submitted. In this way each Chapter will be better represented.

In response to a general wish, the council nights of the different Chapters are given with their letters. Editors will please keep the Managing Editor informed of any change in these days.

PHI PSI CHAPTER.

(TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD, CONN.)

Council Night, Wednesday.

The members of Phi Psi have been shocked by the sad death of their beloved Brother Walter Beach Sherwood. Saturday, April first, Sherwood went canoeing on the Connecticut River with his younger brother. Some distance from shore while attempting to turn the canoe about it was capsized. By clinging to the canoe they were able to make some progress towards shore, but within a few feet of it Walter was suddenly seized with cramps and sank before help could reach him. Immediately a search was begun for the body, and on Monday it was recovered by his Fraternity Brothers. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in St. Thomas' Church, being preceded by family prayers at the house. The bearers were members of + + and the entire senior class attended in caps and gowns. The body was placed in a receiving vault in Spring Grove Cemetery. Its final resting place will be in the family lot at Trumbull, Connecticut.

PHI CHI CHAPTER.

(POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE OF BROOKLYN, NEW YORK CITY.)

Council Night, Friday.

Since our last letter we have initiated one new Brother, Frederick C. Nichols, whose record appears on another page. Bro. Fred went through a general routine of performances and we found that he can sing, compose poetry and make speeches. After all these revelations were made Bro. Nichols was formally initiated. We now have another man, a Freshman, pledged, and expect soon to have another initiation.

Several of the Brothers journeyed to the Poly-Columbia baseball game on April 1., and after the game went to the ΦΩ quarters and met some of the Brothers. Bros. Evers and Wilson played for Poly. (Score of the contest omitted at the request of some of the ΦΧ Brothers.)

At the annual indoor games of the Institute held in March, Bro. Geo. L. Bundy won the third medal for individual points. He earned a little over 18 points, while the winner of the second medal had 23, a margin not any too much, considering that one event can make a large difference.

Once more ΦΧ has a "home." We have hired a large room in 159 Livingston St., and every one of us is delighted with it and its location is of service to all. It was here on April 3 that the new Ritual was put into effect in impressive style. All ΦΧ men think the Ritual to be a genuine piece of fine work.

The Phi Chi Chapter was shocked to hear the sad news from Hartford. Most of us were acquainted personally with Bro. Sherwood, and those who were not, knew him by his reputation. We were aware that he was a great worker for Phi Psi and for Alpha Chi Rho, and we knew also that at Trinity he was held in high esteem as a scholar by the students and also by the faculty. It is with this understanding that we feel that we, as well as ΦΦ, sustain a loss in our Brother’s death.

Wm. H. Wilson,
Chapter Editor.
Council Night, Wednesday.

Since the publication of our last letter two smokers have been held, both of which were eminently successful, not only from a standpoint of cuisine, but as bringing into play that warmth of brotherly feeling so impressive and inspiring in its effect. Lack of space prevents me from giving the menu in detail. Suffice it to say that the Brothers were as much delighted with the edibles as were the guests. As for the entertainment, mention need only be made of Bro. Read, whom perhaps you remember as having sung at the convention banquet. His singing was ably seconded by Bro. Edmundson's elocution, especially his "well known" rendition of "Down to Old Aunt Mary's." These with combined vocal efforts making up in sincerity what they lacked in artistic quality, served to pass off two pleasant evenings. Of the men invited to be present one has been pledged. This caution in passing on eligible men is one of the most encouraging signs of zealous fraternity spirit. The painstaking inspection of each candidate is one of the surest guarantees of healthy growth.

Bro. Edmundson has succeeded in making the cast of the Mask and Wig play entitled, "Mr. Hamlet of Denmark." He will take the part of the Ghost, and of McManus in the annual Easter production. Bro. Snively made the chorus. Bro. Carwithen won a place on the Sophomore Debating Team and has been elected assistant business manager of the Punch Bowl. Bro. Shelly was the unanimous choice of his class for Ivy Day orator.

Bro. Read has paid two visits to Easton since the convention, and has come back with glowing accounts of $\Phi\ A$. Bro. Campbell of $\Phi\ A$ came to the city for a week and was the guest of Bro. Read. The appearance of Bros. Ruch, Turner and Steelman at our councils also gave us most agreeable surprises.

PHI OMEGA CHAPTER.

(COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, NEW YORK CITY.)

Council Night, Monday.

Since last heard from on these pages Phi Omega has pledged one new man and prospects for five or six more are exceedingly bright.

The University of Virginia has asked for permission to reproduce the Columbia Varsity Show, which was concocted by Bros. Webb and Albert, and which was given by the students last month with unprecedented success; —the sum of $1,500 being cleared, due principally to the attraction caused by Bro. Webb, who appeared in the role of Kassim the rightful heir, and a pair of green tights. Bro. Bailly in the chorus and Bro. Mott in the orchestra produced their share of melody under the leadership of Bro. Albert, who led the musical end of the piece with a broad grin and punching-bag exercises, not to mention a pair of white gloves.

Bro. Mott celebrated his twenty-first birthday the other week, assisted by the entire Chapter, which he kindly invited over for the auspicious event and a feed. We had a fine time and hope he'll be twenty-one again soon.

In the hand-ball tournament recently held for the championship of the University, Bro. Robinson won his way to the finals. He will represent Columbia in the match with Harvard.

Bro. Maves is one of the five orators in the contest for the Curtiss medal this year and will also be let loose on the team representing Philolexian Society in its annual debate with the Barnard Literary Association.

Now that the warm weather has come, the stench of Bro. Sutter's auto, otherwise known as the "Pink Brute," is again smelt on our thoroughfares. So far he has only three dogs, six chickens and two coons to his credit.

PHI ALPHA CHAPTER.
(LAFAYETTE COLLEGE, EASTON, PA.)

Council Night, Monday.

The Brothers of Phi Alpha came home from the convention and Phi Phi with such a renewed courage and spirit revived and strengthened by the spirit and enthusiasm of Brothers met there, that within a fortnight two splendid fellows had been pledged. We send you to-day notice of the initiation of these two Brothers, Carlton McHenry and Herbert Walter.

Brother John Reed of Phi Phi has given us two short visits. We all sincerely hope he can come again soon and stay longer. The sound of his ringing notes is wonderfully cheering and we are "mighty glad" to hear it.

Reviews, examinations and vacation have occupied the month of March for us and no one knows how many kilowatts of midnight "juice" were burned, how many wet towels were wrung in anxiety, or how many quarts of wakeful coffee were drunk.

The baseball team and glee club have just returned from their respective trips. The baseball team won seven of the ten games played, which is splendid considering there was no preliminary out-of-doors practice.

PHI BETA CHAPTER.
(DICKINSON COLLEGE, CARLISLE, PA.)

Council Night, Friday.

In this, the first real message from Phi Beta, the Brothers of the "baby Chapter" extend a cordial greeting to all the Brothers of AX P. The baby is thriving. We have striven zealously for the interests of the Chapter and of the Fraternity at large. As outlined in the brief remarks in the March GARNET AND WHITE our policy has been one of judicious expansion.
new Brothers are loyal to the Fraternity and its ideals. They will all be heard from.

The first man to be initiated into Phi Beta since the institution was Bro. Myers, who was taken in on February 10th. On March 3rd Bros. Landis and Steelman were initiated, and on April 7th Bros. Hatz, Butler and Shilling. The pre-initiation ceremonies were entirely satisfactory—at least to the Brothers in charge. Informal "feeds" were given after each initiation, and at irregular intervals between times. An air of joviality and cordial good feeling has characterized all such gatherings. Congeniality is the chief characteristic of the Chapter.

In college literary circles Phi Beta is holding her own. Bro. Armstrong presided at the Washington’s Birthday celebration on February 22nd, President Reed being the speaker of the evening. Bro. Armstrong was also a member of the Belles Lettres Intersociety Debating Team, which met Union Philosophical on Feb. 24th. Bro. Dunning was anniversarian at the 116th anniversary of Union Philosophical on March 1st, and Bro. Hatz filled the same position at the 117th anniversary of Belles Lettres on March 11th, Bros. Armstrong, Harris and Shilling likewise participating in the latter anniversary.

The staff of The Dickinsonian for the ensuing year contains several of the Brothers. Bro. Dunkelberger has been elected manager-in-chief. Bros. Bready and Landis have secured positions on the editorial staff by competitive essays. Bros. Steelman and Shilling are alternate editors from U. P. and Belles Lettres respectively. Bro. Shilling is also corresponding secretary of his society.

Of the editorial staff of the 1907 Microcosm Bro. Harris was the first man to be appointed. He has from time to time made some excellent poetical contributions to The Dickinsonian.

Several Brothers attended the annual mid-winter receptions at Wilson College, Chambersburg, and Irving College, Mechanicsburg.

Bro. Cobb participated in the mid-winter sports on March 16th as a member of the gymnasium team. He won second prize in the pole-climb. For the ensuing year Bro. Cobb has been appointed to supply a charge in the Philadelphia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Bro. Dunkelberger is a member of the relay team which will represent Dickinson at the spring meet in Philadelphia. Bro. Shilling is training for the track team.

Phi Beta is well represented in Y. M. C. A. work. In the recent reorganization of that institution nine of the Brothers were appointed on as many different committees, Bros. Phillips and Dunkelberger being chairmen of the Out Post and Reception committees respectively.

Bro. Steelman visited Phi Phi Chapter during the holidays between the winter and spring terms and reports a royal entertainment there.

Phi Beta sympathizes with the Brothers of Phi Psi in the loss sustained by the tragic death of Bro. Sherwood.

Alumni Department.

(Alumni are requested to send personal news items to the Alumni Editor, James Albert Wales, Stratford, Conn.)

Bros. W. Herbert Fulweiler, Pennsylvania '01, and T. Harry Walnut, Pennsylvania '02, are enjoying the peculiarly beneficial climate of New Mexico. From Wagon Mound, N. M., Bro. Walnut wrote to his brother, in Riverton, N. J., a very graphic and realistic account of his experiences while lost in a snow storm.

Rev. Bro. Charles E. Tuke, Trinity '02, is rejoicing in the birth of a son and heir. Mr. and Mrs. Tuke are residing in Sherman, Montana.

Bro. Ralph E. Seamon, Lafayette '05, attends the Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons. His home is in Perth Amboy, N. J.

Bro. Howard Bell, Trinity '03, who will graduate from the Berkeley Divinity School in June, will become assistant rector of S. James' Church, Hartford. He will succeed Rev. Bro. Reginald H. Scott, Trinity '01, who leaves to accept the assistant rectorship of Christ Church, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Phi Chi Chapter held a card party at the home of Bro. Berri on February 25. The early part of the evening was spent in playing progressive hearts. Prizes were presented to Miss Powell, Miss Boyce, Bro. Kneeland, '01, and Bro. Nichols. Among those present were Bros. Berri, '03, Codwise, Kneeland, '01, Lundoff, '02, Malbon, '02, Messick, '00, Phi Chi Alumni, and from the active Chapter, Bros. Bundy, Evers, Gunther, Kalkhoff, Ljung, Nichols and Tamlyn.

Rev. Bro. Ellsworth M. Tracy, Trinity '00, is located in Maplewood, N. J.

Bro. Ralph J. Baker, Lafayette '05, is doing special post graduate work at Yale.

Bro. Everett Eugene Stacy, Trinity '01, is greatly in demand as a lecturer on topics of timely interest, one of his favorite subjects being the "Lewis and Clark Exposition." Any brother whose church or club desires an interesting lecture upon any occasion, would do well to address Bro. Stacey at Tenley, Washington, D. C.

Bro. William S. Shelley, Lafayette, brother of our Vice-President, is manager of the Westminster Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J.

Rev. Bro. F. A. McElwain, Trinity '99, has accepted a call to the rectorship of S. John's Church, Springfield, Mo., to take effect May 1.

Bros. Clarence F. Nagle, Lafayette '04, and Albert Koehler, Lafayette '04, are with the Westinghouse Company at Pittsburg, and from all reports are giving an excellent account of their Lafayette training.

Bro. Wm. A. Eardeley, Trinity '96, should be addressed at Back Bay station, Boston, Mass., where he is now engaged in genealogical and Sunday-school work. He recently visited Phi Psi Chapter.

Bro. Orrok Colloque, Trinity '99, is principal of an academy at Lima, Ind. President Luther of Trinity recently delivered an address at Bro. Colloque's school.
Bro. Marcus B. Buckley, Lafayette '07, who is now with the Easton Gas and Electric Company, expects to leave for Canada soon, to join the engineering staff of an extensive railway enterprise.

Bro. Bayard Quincy Morgan, Trinity '04, has recently contributed to the Trinity Tablet several excellent translations of classic German poetry. Bro. Morgan, who is studying Germanic philology in Leipsic, under the celebrated philologist Sievers, will spend the two-months' spring vacation in a bicycle trip through England.

At the banquet of the Hartford Alumni Association of Trinity College, given at the Hartford Club, February 25, the following AX P men were present: Bros. Buckley, '84, Hastings, '96, Blakeslee, '98, Henderson, '02, and Walker, '02. Bro. Buckley invoked grace.

Bro. Herbert Salinger, Columbia '04, is in New York City financing an important development for the Copper Creek Mining Co. Bro. Salinger expects to return to Canada in the fall.

Bro. Frank S. Morehouse, Trinity '01, was ordained to the Priesthood on January 29, 1905, at Rugby, N. D., by the Rt. Rev. Cameron Mann, Bishop of North Dakota. In his work at Rugby, in a very difficult field, Bro. Morehouse has given a splendid example of the push so characteristic of Alpha Chi men in every profession, having built one of the most substantial and beautiful stone church buildings in the State, and personally fitted and reset the stained glass used in its decoration. Alpha Chi Rho is rich in the possession of many loyal members in the far west, who, though unable at present to aid much in the work of the Fraternity, are a source of reserve strength not to be underestimated.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Laura Emilie Jansen to Rev. Bro. Edwin Schively Carson, Trinity '02, at the Church of the Nativity, Philadelphia, April 24, at noon.

At the eleventh anniversary dinner of the Sagamore Club, recently held at the Hotel Flanders, Philadelphia, the president of the club, Bro. Otto
Robert Heiligman, Pennsylvania '00, acted as toastmaster. Among the speakers were Rear Admiral Dickens, Judges Hanna and Ashman, and ex-Mayors Warwick, Smith and Ashbridge.

Bro. Edgar Martin Rogers, Trinity '02, a senior at the Berkeley Divinity School, and a candidate for orders from S. Paul's parish, Washington, D. C., has been appointed by his diocesan to serve in Trinity parish, Washington, as assistant to Archdeacon Williams. His special field of duty will be the development of S. Agnes' Chapel.

Bro. Marshall Bowyer Stewart, Trinity '02, an honor man at the General Theological Seminary, and a candidate for orders in the diocese of Washington, has been appointed by Bishop Satterlee to serve in S. John's Church, Charles and Prince George counties, Maryland, in his ordination to the diaconate in June.

Bro. Clarence Stratton, Pennsylvania '01, now a professor in the St. Louis (Mo.) High School, has a translation from the French of Labanc's "She Who Waits" in the spring number of Poet Lore. Bro. Bayard Quincy Morgan, Trinity '04, has also been contributing translations of classic German poems to The Trinity Tablet.

Bro. William Seward Wyman Wallace, Trinity '05, is now engaged in the American Museum of Natural History (Department of Invertebrate Zoology and Bureau of Education), and in collaboration with Mr. C. W. Beebe of the Bronx "Zoo," is preparing a small book on the Infusoria in New York City, intended as a popular guide. Bro. Wallace's paper on "Snakes of Rockland County, New York," formed No. 2 of the Trinity Biological Series.

Every Brother in Alpha Chi Rho will welcome the following brief biography of our newly elected Vice-President, whose prominent entry into the national field was a feature of the February convention.

Bro. James Monroe Shelley, Lafayette '03, is a native of Ohio. He also resided for a while in Kansas, and his father, a teacher, finally settled in Berks county, Pennsylvania, having accepted a charge as minister of the Mennonite Church at Bally. At the age of sixteen, Bro. Shelley entered Perkiomen Seminary, Pennsburg. The two years following he taught school during the winter and took up college preparatory work during the spring months. In the fall of '97 he entered the Senior class at Perkiomen and graduated the following spring with honors in the maximum course. During the winter of '98-'99, he again taught school, and entered Lafayette College in the fall of '99. During his four years in college he took an active interest in all the various phases of college life, having been a member of his class football team, Franklin Literary Society debating team, College Glee Club, and College Track Team. He was one of the charter members of Alpha Chi (then Psi Alpha Kappa) at Lafayette, and always took an active interest in the welfare of the Chapter. He served as assistant editor of the 1903 Melange, was elected class historian, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and was assigned the scientific oration upon graduation. Bro. Shelley was elected instructor in science in the Perth Amboy (N. J.) High School, the year after graduation. During the following summer, Aug. 11, 1904, he was married to Miss Ida S. Schultz, of Niantic, Pa. He resigned his position at Perth Amboy at the close of the year to become supervising principal of the Doylestown (Pa.) Public Schools, which position he is filling at present.

On April 22 and 23, Bros. M. J. Pickering, '02, and John Read, '06, of Pennsylvania, and J. A. Wales, Trinity '01, were royally entertained by Phi Alpha Chapter, at Easton. After witnessing the Lafayette-Trinity baseball game, the Chapter gave a box party at the Opera House, and Bro. Read added to the gayety of natives by rendering a bass solo during the amateur vaudeville contest which followed "Hawkshaw the Detective." He was introduced as "The Unknown from Trinity College." The three visitors and Bro. Campbell, '05, Boyd, '05, Taylor, '06, and Fetter, '08, of Lafayette, attended the famous dawn Easter services in the Moravian Church at Bethlehem, and as no trains or trolleys were running, these representatives of three Chapters made the trip from Easton in the caboose of a freight train, between 1 and 2 a. m.—an unique Fraternity gathering.
The Fraternity World.

The editors are always glad to exchange with organs of other Fraternities. All such exchanges should be sent to the Managing Editor, H. C. Staunton, at Columbia University, New York City. If convenient, two additional copies are requested, to be sent to M. Joseph Pickering, 704 S. Washington Sq., Philadelphia, Pa.; and to Carlton H. Hayes, 370 W. 116 St., New York City. Three copies in return will be sent to any desired address.

The editors acknowledge the following exchanges: Phi Gamma Delta (December); Centaur of Alpha Kappa Kappa (January); Rainbow of Delta Tau Delta (January); Quarterly of Alpha Phi (February); Kappa Alpha Theta (March); Quarterly of Delta Upsilon (March); Journal of Kappa Alpha (April).

Phi Kappa Psi has published a new song-book.

A constant topic of discussion in the Greek Press of recent date has been the need for more effective and thorough organization of the alumni.

Much wit has been set free in different fraternity publications by the recent edict of the Phi Delta Theta convention requiring members to wear their pins at all times. One editor suggests that the brothers wear their badge as an earring. Yet another suggests that they swallow it.

“Kappa Sigma is offering twenty, fifteen and ten dollars for first, second, and third best songs, and is disposing of pocket-sized address books of members in paper form for fifty cents per each.” This mystic rune is from the K A Journal. Perhaps it is Greek.
The editor of the Rainbow of Delta Tau Delta has moved east since our last, and his printer is moving west. Rainbow will soon look like a horse-shoe.

A new edition of Baird's American College Fraternities is being prepared, and will be out this month. The last edition appeared in 1898.

To institute a new chapter in Alpha Kappa Kappa (medical), under the new constitution, requires a four-fifths affirmative vote from all the chapters, in addition to the approval of the fraternity council. To institute a new chapter in K A Southern, nothing is required but the will and act of the Knight Commander. Fraternity law on this point runs between wide extremes.

Fidelity:

The Fraternity is not an institution of constant delight, or of unfailing harmony. Neither is the world itself. Both are composed of persons whose natures are distinct, often strong-willed, often selfish. When people join a fraternity they are not transformed into saints. Individual natures of different colors do not always blend. It is not easy to force one's will to give way before that of another, even for the greater good. Personal feelings are strong, and there is no harder task than "to renounce when that shall be necessary and not be embittered." Yet contact with other natures, while it does not always accomplish that greatest of tasks, tends nevertheless to produce a broader point of view, a more active sympathy, a kindlier toleration of the standards of other minds. This is the result it tends to produce; this the opportunity it affords. Whether the opportunity shall be embraced rests not with the fraternity, not with the chapter, not even with the fraternity member, as such, but rather with the individual in every practical walk of life, in college, in business, in the home, or in society.—Quarterly of A Φ.
The Value of Active Alumni:

The growth of fraternities has also depended to some extent on the executive and administrative policy adopted by each. The early form where the entire government was vested in one chapter soon proved inadequate to the needs of a national organization, and to-day these powers have generally been delegated to a central body, and when the members of this central governing body are alumni members of the fraternity the work of that fraternity has shown the greatest aggressiveness and consistency. This graduate control also tends to produce a stability in a fraternity's policy and its advantage is especially demonstrated in the healthy internal soundness of the undergraduate chapters.—Rainbow of Δ Τ Δ.

Garnet vs. Bright Red:

Perhaps the most elaborate function attempted by any chapter is the banquet. Of this there is very little to say, for the whole matter is usually left to the caterer or hotel chef; slight opportunity being given for individual taste, except in decoration and the menu card. It seems to me in these two lines some improvement could be made. The cards are quite frequently conventional, and I have yet to see one tied with proper colours, crimson and old gold; I have seen much yellow and red.—Journal of K A.

Loyalty:

In the fifth place, each man must be just to his fraternity in his relations to his chapter and to the fraternity itself. This means faithful service. It means perhaps first of all that all of his financial obligations to his chapter, be they for room or board or chapter tax, shall be regularly and promptly and fully met, and that his chapter's obligations to the fraternity shall be met in precisely the same way. Financial delinquencies are thoroughly and fundamentally incompatible with fraternity duty. More than this, however, each man must discharge the duties imposed upon him by his chapter promptly and carefully. Negligence or dilatoriness in the performance of duties as officer or committeeman are a breach of duty. The fraternity may demand in all fairness a reasonable expenditure of time and thought and energy in its interests of each of its members.—Quarterly of Δ Υ.

Printed by order of the National Council.

The National Council met in executive session on Saturday evening, March 25th, at the G & W rooms in New York City. There were present National President Blakeslee, National Secretary Hayes, and Councillors Tull and Wales. The business related almost exclusively to the execution of measures enacted at the last session of the National Convention. The National Secretary reported that a model of the Coat-of-Arms was being prepared under the auspices of Bro. M. M. Day, and the National Council directed that as soon as it is completed, the engraving of the Coat-of-Arms and of the Membership Certificate be done. Plans were likewise discussed for the decennial celebration at Hartford, June 3-4, 1905, concerning which the Chapters and Graduate Associations are now informed in detail.

It is hoped that the Membership Certificates will be ready for distribution by May 15th. Any Brother in good standing may obtain one by sending his name and fifty cents to the National Secretary.

Songs.

Contributions to this Department are earnestly solicited from each and every Brother in the Fraternity. It is purposed to issue a tentative Song Book as soon as sufficient material can be procured.

PHI BETA CHAPTER VERSE TO “AMICI”:

On thy mountain, Dickinsonia,
Stands our fortress high;
There our steadfast band to guard it,
Knights of Alpha Chi.

L. H. H., φ B.
"SING HIGH, SING HO."

(This was the oldest song of the Fraternity. It was superseded by "Amici" about 1899.)

Sing high, sing ho,
Alpha Chi Rho;
Sing soft, sing low,
Alpha Chi Rho;
into the starry vault of heaven
Brothers raise the song,
Choirs there echo sweetly our glad song.
Then hush all sound of strife and variance our great throng,
Sing now Brothers the old dear song.

Long years ago, Alpha Chi Rho,
By name unknown, fared forth alone,
With knightly hand uplifted high,
Heav'n's sign of victory;
Love reigned in the heart of our Great King,
By love constrained in Brother love we toil and sing;
Sing now Brothers the old dear song.

THE BEST FRATERNITY.

Alpha Chi Rho Brothers we
In Fraternity,
Loud we sing for Alpha Chi,
Loyal sons are we.

Chorus.

Alpha Chi, Alpha Chi,
Best Fraternity!
Others sing for other frats.,
We sing only thee!

Brothers bound by friendship's tie
Happy in thy hall,
We our sacred vows renew,
Gathered at thy call.

W. H. G., Φ Φ.
EVENING SONG.

Words by M. H. Geisler. Music, Chapel Steps. P. 5, "Songs of all the Colleges."

Here in the years that are to come,
When college days are o'er,
We will return to Alpha Chi
To sing our songs once more.
Hand clasping hand in firmest grip
Of friendship tried and true,
For Alpha Chi Rho, we'll forward go,
And sing the long years through.

When in the twilight hour we rest,
From toil and care set free,
The firelight's glow brings happy thoughts
Of days we spend for thee.
And when we leave thy quiet walls,
And in the strife take part,
Then thou wilt be, Fraternity,
Close sheltered in each heart.

PLEDGING SONG. AIR, “HEIDELBERG.”
(To accompany toasts at A X P banquets and gatherings.)

A X P

Here’s to the Bond of Alpha Chi,
Firmer than links of steel,
Binding our hearts in a deathless tie—
Loyalty, love and zeal.
Here’s to the badge of Alpha Chi,
Here’s to the sign we show,
Here’s to our Laborum raised on high,
Here’s to Alpha Chi Rho!

Chorus.

O Alpha Chi Rho, mother dear,
Thy sons will ne’er forget,
The golden haze of chapter days
Is ’round about us yet.
Those days of yore we’ll view once more,
In our alumni years,
|| And every eye, dear Alpha Chi,
Will fill with memory’s tears. ||

Φ Ψ

Here’s to the place that gave us birth,
Here’s to old Trinity.
Here’s to her sons of sterling worth
In the Fraternity.
Here’s to Phi Psi, whose seed well sown
Has fallen in fertile fields;
Here’s to the Phis to greatness grown,
Here’s to their spotless shields.

Φ Χ

Here’s to a college of wide repute,
Of universal fame,
“The Polytechnic Institute
Of Brooklyn” is its name.
Here’s to Phi Chi, her loyal hearts
Beat with the rhythm of one,
Here’s to the strength her love imparts
To every sturdy son!
Here's to the University,
Named for old Father Penn,
Pennsylvania, here's to thee,
And to the Phi Phi men;
Here's to their happiness and health,
Here's to their standards high,
Here's to their wisdom, wit and wealth,
Here's to our old Phi Phi!

Here's to Columbia, glorified
In the metropolis,
Here's to the pride of Morningside,
New York's Acropolis.
Here's to the best of all her sons,
The men of Alpha Chi,
Here's to Phi Omega's chosen ones,
May their joys multiply!

Here's to a college fair to see,
Picturesque Lafayette,
Here's to old South and to old Pardee,
Cherished in memory yet.
Here's to Phi Alpha, tried and true,
Here's to her noble past,
Here's to her present—her future, too—
Long may her glory last!

Here's to historic Dickinson,
Here's to her home, Carlisle;
Here's to her graduates who've won
Honor and fame worth while,
Here's to Phi Beta's men of might,
Here's to their brains and brawn,
May their way ever be bravely bright,
And all their cares begone!
